REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1-10, 12-21, 23, 25 and 26 are allowable over the prior art of record.

The examiner had found that the prior art of record does not teach or suggest or render obvious "A method and system for providing access over a network to data and services available within a collaborative computer system, the collaborative system comprising a plurality of collaborative clients, the method comprising:

maintaining, by each collaborative client, data based on user interactions with the collaborative system, the maintaining comprising, for each collaborative client, having a local copy of collaborative data and forwarding data change requests to other collaborative clients and using data change requests in modifying the local copy; providing access to the collaborative data in response to a request message from a non-native client, the non-native client accessing the collaborative data other than through the collaborative system, the request message containing information identifying the non-native client; receiving the request message in a server connected to the non-native client, extracting from the request message the information identifying the non-native client and modifying the request message by replacing the information identifying the non-collaborative client with information identifying a queue in the server, the queue being associated with the non-native client and the server; sending the modified request message to a collaborative client of the plurality of collaborative clients via the network, wherein the request message specifies collaborative data to update or return, and the collaborative client provides a response message based on the request message; sending the response message to the server queue identified in the modified request message, and using the information in the server identifying the non- native client to forward the response message from the server queue to the non-collaborative client ” as in claim 1,12 and 23.

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance or Examiner Amendment.”
